1 Context of the assignment

1.1 Description of the organization

SOS Children's Villages Belgium (SOS Belgium) is a non-governmental social development organization that has been active in the field of children’s rights and committed to children’s needs and concerns since 1963. SOS Children's Villages Belgium is a member of SOS Children’s Villages International, an international federation in 134 countries.

The main target group of SOS Children's Villages are children having lost parental care or that are at risk of losing it. SOS focuses on the development of the child so that (s)he becomes an independent member who participates in the society. The best way for a child to develop fully his/her potential is to grow up in a loving family environment. Recognizing the child's role in their own development and the role of their family, community, state and other service providers, we work with all relevant stakeholders to find the most appropriate response adapted to the situation of the child. Based on the specific situation and the best interest of the child, interventions are developed and the corresponding measures are implemented. Together with other stakeholders, we build on existing resources, initiatives and capacities, and strengthen them where necessary. In this way, we respond with relevant interventions using the available resources in the best possible way while having a greater impact on the situation of the children in our target group.

1.2 Context of the assignment

Integrity (on moral aspects, including Child Safeguarding, and financial aspects) is one of the key values within SOS Belgium. In 2018, SOS Belgium signed the Charter on Integrity of the Belgian Ministry of External Affairs, Commerce and Development Cooperation. In order to comply with the principles and approaches of this Charter, SOS Belgium confirmed/reviewed existing policies and procedures on Integrity and developed new policies and procedures where there were lacking on the following six domains: 1) ethical code, 2) internal control and risk management, 3) ethics in the relations with external stakeholders, 4) child protection and child safeguarding, 5) response mechanisms to integrity violations and 6) ethics in the relations with international implementing partners. For each of these domains a series of policies, procedures or supporting documents have been reviewed or developed that are the object of this assessment. Without being exhaustive, it concerns amongst others following documents: ethical code, risk dashboards and risk mitigation measures, (financial) internal control procedures, procedures on response mechanisms, child safeguarding guarantees, integrity policy for collaboration with private sector-major donors-legacies, partnership agreements with implementing partners, procedures on internal sensitization and continuous quality improvement on integrity etc.

The International Federation of SOS also adopted different policy and policy support documents on ‘Child Safeguarding’, ‘Prevention of Sexual Exploitation, Abuse and Harassment’ and on ‘Anti-Fraud and anti-corruption’, which are applicable for all the members of the federation, including SOS Belgium. Finally, there are different legal obligations in these integrity domains coming from the regional or federal legislation in Belgium.
